growth of social service agencies or he otherwise established was a matter, she said, for mature consideration.
She felt satisfied, however, that the principle was sound, and if worked out in some way would mean a great deal not only to the small army of girls and women who are constantly looking for employment, but also to the mistresses of homes who want work well done or not at all.

Where Women Are Taught How to Wait on Tables Comfortably seated in the bright cafeteria at the McGill Street Y.W.
C.A. last evening one found a group of young women receiving instruction concerning the most correct methods of waiting on table. These would-be waitresses have entered upon a course of ten lessons, which will cover all branches of serving, the setting-up of tables and the making of sandwiches and salads.
Their teacher is Miss Privett, who stands high in her chosen vocation of "waiting," and last evening she gave an interesting talk on setting the table for breakfast, luncheon and dinner, and on table decoration.
The course is one of many that the Y.W.C.A. is making possible for young women, so that they may fill their various spheres in life with ease and success.

BY LANDS MINISTER
Hon. James Lyons Speaks of Development Along
Many Lines
Replying in the Legislature yesterday to charges made by Peter Heenan, Labor member for Kenora, in Northern Ontario; that Government officials had intimidated and persecuted settlers in his riding, Hon. James Lyons, Minister of Lands and Forests, countered with the allegation that Mr. Heenan was a "friend of Backus," and that the Backus interests were being looked after by him more efficiently than the interests of Kenora riding.
Speaking to his bill to make further provision for Northern and Northwestern Ontario development, Mr. Lyons claimed credit for his department for having reduced expenditure by $1,600,000 and denied the charge that the department had been using outstanding accounts to swell revenue, as they were practically the same as the previous year, he said.
The Minister reviewed the complete reorganization he had made of the Northern Development Branch, the appointment of resident engineers in nine districts, and the development of colonization funds.
There was no ground for complaint, he said, that any part of Northern Ontario had been favored.
Coming to the subject of forest-fire prevention, Mr. Lyons stated that expenditures here had been reduced $208,000, although hydroplanes and equipment had been purchased. Today Ontario had the greatest aircraft organization in the world, he said. Although the tenders originally received for forest-patrol flying had been for about $95 able to do the work itself for Dealing with the pulp and paper situation, Mr. Lyons said that by end of 1925 Canada would be the largest producer of newsprint in the world, and 90 per cent. of it was in the United States. Remarkably one million cords of ground paper were annually exported to the Uni-States, Mr. Lyons said that if fact were known the agitation an embargo would be much stronger, which was not reported

EXERCISES OF GIRLS CLEVERLY PERFORMED

Annual Demonstration in Margaret Eaton School is Popular Event.

A successful event last night was the annual demonstration of the Physical Education Department of the Margaret Eaton School of Literature and Expression, held before a large gathering in the gymnasium at the Central Y.M.C.A. Many of the parents of the graduating class attended the demonstration, which was conducted by Miss Mary Hamilton, Miss Langtree, Miss Andrena Williams and Mr. Charles Walters, fencing instructor.

The excellent marching of the girls won enthusiastic applause, their trim gymnasium suits worn with white collars, and white shoes adding to the striking effect as the line moved with remarkable precision and grace down the length of the gymnasium. Swedish gymnastics gave evidence of splendid technique in physical training. Some clever wand exercises were given; elementary horse work, games of quoits and hurdle relays and skilful fencing.

Following a short intermission there was an effective program of English country and Morris dancing.

These were gracefully executed, as were also singing games.

The program concluded with an exquisite interpretation of Spring Morn by a group of fairy dancers, followed by the Russian Couple Dance. There was also an exhibition of club swinging exercises.

The Graduating Class.
About twenty-four girls took part in the program, including the graduating class and junior pupils. The graduates are:—Miss Dorothy Alger, Miss Katherine Altkon, Miss Dorothy Black, Miss Marion Cunningham, Miss Jean Gibson, Miss Agnes Moffatt, Miss Vivian Jones, Miss Mary Barker, Miss Jessie Macfarlane, Miss Bessie Pitt and Miss Winnifred Williams.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Williams, of Collingwood; Dr. and Mrs. Alger, of Stirling; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Macfarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Black, of St. Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gibson, Miss Charlotte Ross, Madame Goudis and Miss Thrall, of the staff.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

One of the most successful teas of the season was that held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Radford, 161 High Park Avenue, under the auspices of the Women's Presbyterian Association of Victoria Presbyterian Church. Mrs. M. F. Lennox and Mrs. Wm. Maher received with the hostess, Mrs. D. T. L. McKerroll gave a timely talk, and Miss Elizabeth Maher, reader, gave several pleasing selections.

A very successful tea and musicale was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Slater, 10 Munro Park Avenue, under the auspices of the Women's Missionary Society of Kew Beach Presbyterian Church. Mrs. John Lowden and Mrs. Wm. Corbett presided at the tea table, and a program was arranged by Mrs. Flora Thomson, and carried out by several graduates of the Toronto Conservatory.

Sir John Moore Chapter, I.O.D.E., met at Sherbourne House, the regent, Mrs. H. E. Moore, presiding. The various reports showed a successful year, with several new members enrolled. Plans were discussed for Alexandra Rose Day and other activities during the Summer months. A magazine shower resulted in a good supply of reading material for the patients at the Weston Sanitarium. A substantial cheque was sent to a widow with four children to help relieve their need. The Municipal regent, Mrs. W. R. Jackson, was present, and gave a stirring address on the aims of the order, also a brief resume of the wonderful work which has been accomplished by the order in the twenty-five years of its history. She was made the recipient of a corsage bouquet of sweet-peas and lily of the valley. The regent was appointed to represent the chapter at the annual meeting of the National chapter in Ottawa.

When the Veterans of 1866 Chapter, I.O.D.E., met yesterday in Sherbourne House Club, with the regent, Mrs. H. Westman, presiding, Mrs. Thomas Claxton, educational secretary, and Mrs. C. H. Likens, relief convener, gave splendid reports of their work. Miss Julia Lockhead was appointed a captain for Rose Day. Twenty-five dollars was voted for Summer outings for mothers, and a contribution was given for a flag for the Soldiers' Island Outpost. Mrs. J. A. Laidlaw reported on the rummage sale. It was decided that the chapter would place a wreath on the Veterans' of 1866 monument in Queen's Park, on Victoria Day. On June 7 the chapter will decorate the graves of the Veterans of 1866 in the Necropolis and St. James' Cemetery. The regent, Mrs. Westman, gave an instructive and interesting report regarding the proceedings of the provincial convention at Hamilton.

Rev. Mr. Toewe urged the girl to go, telling her she surely did not wish to be the cause of the separation of husband and wife. The girl replied: "What have I done? Has anything been proven against me? You may write to Germany regarding my character." She said she didn't want to leave Snyder's for another place as it would cause her name to be damaged.

Between 5.30 and 6 on the evening of June 4th, the night the girl died, Mrs. Snyder called him up to say the girl was willing to leave "for peace in the family." Martha was given the phone and she said the same thing, but the girl asked if she was not to have some papers regarding her character. He told her she needed no such papers, and that he had another place, Emmanuel Wolf's, in which he could probably place her. He promised to call the girl that same evening after he had spoken to Mrs. Wolf.

About 6.20, he testified that he was called again by Mrs. Snyder, who said, "Martha is acting awful. I believe she is going to die. Call Dr. Workman for I cannot get him, and tell him to come down right away."

Doctor Found Girl Dying

Called to the witness stand, Dr. Harold Workman stated that when he arrived Mrs. Snyder met him at the door and told him the girl was dying. The girl was lying quiet, but immediately took a convulsion. He expressed the view the girl had taken strychnine. Mrs. Snyder said there was strychnine in the shed, but she had moved it. They went out

On the night of the fatality, the girl had handed him a letter, a little valise and some keys asking him to send them to her sister.

Kenneth Warren, druggist, showed a record of sale of strychnine to Mrs. Snyder, May 22.

who do not wish to enter the Union, and so express themselves, thereby separate themselves from our society on June 10, 1925, if they have not already done so.

"You further refer to the 'society which is remaining in the Presbyterian Church'. From the context we assume that you here refer to those members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church in Canada who do not desire to enter the Union. As the United Church of Canada Act distinctly states that the Presbyterian Church in Canada, including all its boards and societies, enters the Union on June 10, 1925, we cannot allow your reference to go unchallenged, and must again reaffirm our position that those who remain in the Presbyterian Church are those who enter Union. Any other position would be inconsistent with the legislation.

"In view of the provisions of Section 5 of the United Church of Canada Act, this board is of the opinion that it cannot consider the proposals submitted."

Many Fields of Service.

Following the reading of the letter, Mrs. Home proceeded to enumerate the fields open to the society as at present constituted and the requests for help. Northern Alberta had asked for a nursing hospital unit to be established at Fort McMurray and New Lakeland had requested a school home for high school boys. The Indian work in Canada was open, the Chinese work also, although the latter must be handled with wisdom. The immigration problem called for assistance and the workers in the Home Land who had suffered through their loyalty to the Presbyterian cause needed support. Overseas, there were avenues of service in South China, in the Bhil District of Central India, in Northern Africa, in Albania, in Abyssinia, in Northern Formosa, and among the Lepers.
The hospital at Luchiana, and Miss Macdonald's social service work in Japan also called for aid.

Foreign Workers Heard.

In brief addresses, Dr. Caroline Macdonald told of her settlement work in Tokio and suggested educational work among factory girls and women in Japan as an avenue of service for the Canadian Presbyterian W.M.S.

Miss Agnes Dickson, formerly of South China, but at present serving in Toronto, stated that there are eight women workers in the South China field, five of whom will remain Presbyterian. She stated that all these, together with herself and one other on furlough, earnestly desired to continue under the old banner, and expressed a hope that this could be arranged. In Canada, she declared, there was work to be done among Chinese women in and around Ottawa and in and around Hamilton.
There were today 800 Chinese women resident in different parts of Canada, and more workers among them were much needed.

"When I left India I thought I was the only black sheep in the flock," said Rev. John Wilkie, D.D., of Gwallior, India. "When I arrived in Canada I met Dr. Goforth, and then I knew there were two of us. At the Assembly, however, I learned that there are at least 44 missionaries who will remain with the Presbyterian Church." Dr. Wilkie then told of the fields ready for harvest in India and of the magnificent opportunities lying in his own mission area.

Mrs. R. C. Donald submitted the report of the Nominating Committee, which contained 25 names for the Council executive.

they had come into Canada on an isolated permit, which forbids the use of the automobile for commercial purposes, or any purpose other than that of tourists," said Mr. McQuinn. "I told them they had to obtain their permit. One of the reporters," he said, "voluntarily exposed a plate in his camera, thus destroying it. None of the photographic plates was destroyed by myself or the officers at this place. Mr. McQuinn, one of the reporters, then told us for our courteous treatment so that it would not appear as if anything to complain of."

THREE PLAYLETS. Margaret Eaton Theatre Presents Varied Offerings This Week.

The New Theatre of the Margaret Eaton School is making its second presentation of the current season during the present week. The performance began at 8.30 last night, and closed at 10.30, but the musicless waits were still long enough to call forth a little unruly clapping from impatient patrons. They afforded, however, ample opportunity to admire the new auditorium's tasteful decorations, excellent system of indirect lighting, and arrangements for ventilation.

Galsworthy's "The Little Man" is a mildly amusing trifle in three brief scenes, satirizing the discrepancy between a loud-mouthed American's preaching and practice. Other types are roughly sketched, to fill in the background, and the whole closes with a tableau in lieu of any very satisfactory conclusion. The settings solved some problems ingeniously, the "arrival platform" being the most successful in its reliance upon simplified suggestion. Drexler Wagner and George Young handled the chief roles very well.

Lawrence Housman's delicate little morality "A Fool and His Money" with no specific date or geographical location to tie one down, was happily costumed and perhaps the best acted and directed performance of the evening. It certainly won the most genuine applause. Ivor Lewis, Harry W. Baldwin and Geoffrey Hatten played very admirably the three roles that make up this arresting playlet. The setting employs the old-style cut-out sets and painted back-drop not wholly unsuccessfully, but more modern methods would be more interesting. A very shallow stage was used.

Andreyev's fantastic beast, "Love of One's Neighbor," reminds one of "He Who Gets Slapped" in its Russian atmosphere, high color scheme and unusual point of view. The setting and costumes are judiciously pitched in a vivid key, the cast of nearly forty players is well grouped and skilfully kept in motion, and the devices of marching through the auditorium and leaving a player outside the curtain are legitimately and effectively employed. H. E. Hitchman is the chief laugh-getter, as usual, but Grace Webster and others contribute effective bits. This piece really should move with more snap and certainty in order to realize its full possibilities.

In general, the lighting was poor. Shadows must be kept off distant horizons, and abrupt, meaningless changes must be avoided. Opening passages of exposition must be audible if the plot is to be followed intelligently. But, on the other hand, Bertram Forayth has given us an unusual bill in a new theatre that is a real asset to the city, and has communicated considerable precision and finish to the performance. —L. Objection to Revolution Doubting that such a condition would ever overtake Great Britain or Canada, as they were not autocracies like Russia, or as Italy is under Mussolini, because the tradition of the two countries is a record of settling differences by an appeal to reason, he said that the fundamental objection to revolution was that it did violence to the better sense of the nation. Violence in Great Britain, he claimed, would caution the victors as well as silence the vanquished.

Man Charged With Theft Of Street Car Tickets

George Gazell, 352 Queen Street West, was last night arrested by Detective Thomson on a charge of stealing $14 worth of street-car tickets from the T.T.C. barns at Yonge Street and Dundas Avenue. Gazell, it is reported, was trying to sell one of the conductors a watch. During the conversation Gazell, police charged, picked up the tickets and walked out.

Gifts were shown in the eight numbers sung by Miss Grainger, which were well adapted to give her beautiful contralto voice the widest scope for range and expression. Her first three numbers, from Handel, Gluck and Mercadante, admirably illustrated her mastery of a foreign tongue, and the delicate shades of phrasing and sympathetic interpretation of which her voice is capable. Throughout the large audience a pin might have been heard to drop during the singing, and the high appreciation of the hearers was abundantly evidenced in the tremendous applause that would not be refused an encore.

The tone poem, "Under the Tree," was an exquisite descriptive rendering by the assisting instrumentalists of a poem by Katherine Hale. Completely captivating the audience by the delicacy of its theme and the ability displayed in its execution, it brought a flattering ovation at its conclusion.

In two numbers Miss Newton had an opportunity, of which she took full advantage, of showing to the audience something of that ability that has made her one of the leading elocutionists of the city. Her rendering of the trial scene from the "Merchant of Venice" was given with rare ability and force, as was also her humorous Irish monologue, with which the program concluded.

Miss Grainger is a pupil of Dr. Gutzwill, who acted as accompanist.

NEW TREATMENT for High Blood Pressure

The Doctrine of Garle Treatment is now acknowledged as the reliable remedy for Arterio Sclerosis and High Blood Pressure. Widely used and recommended by medical authorities; this new treatment has saved thousands from the most dreaded malady of middle age.

GARLEO is the name of this Treatment of Garle Treatment, and is now being prepared in Canada by the Carter Drug Company, 1560 Dundas Street West. The wise course is to start taking GARLEO the moment the first symptoms of High Blood Pressure appear—violent headaches, dizziness, imperfect circulation, loss of energy.

Lowering of the Blood Pressure will be noted almost from the beginning of the GARLEO treatment, and continuance will bring about a practically complete disappearance of the malady. Send $2.00 for a full size bottle, postpaid to any address.

CITIZENS OF PROVINCE AID BECK MEMORIAL

Thropio desires to help people in their need; for the economic reason of staying the progress of a scourge and restoring to health and activity and productiveness men and women and children; for the scientific reason that methods to combat this fell foe may be more speedily devised, and for the Christian reason that it is following out the injunction of the Saviour, the citizens of Ontario ought to welcome this appeal.

Col. I. E. Leonard of London quoted interesting statistics to show that Canada's annual losses in human life from tuberculosis approached her loss of men in the Great War. But, whereas the one loss was perhaps a necessary price for principle, the loss of life from tuberculosis was in a large measure unnecessary. Canada's loss from tuberculosis, however, was smaller pro rata than those of other nations, which was attributable to such men and such institutions as Sir Adam Beck and his Queen Alexandra Sanatorium.

Was Near to Heart.
Ex-Mayor Alfred Maguire, now Provincial Hydro Commissioner, inspired the gathering by relating a conversation he had with Sir Adam when in hospital in Baltimore. In lengthy conversation there Sir Adam had said that, if only he could be sure Queen Alexandra Hospital would forever be able to give the same care to indigents as it gave to the same wealthy, he would be happy.

"He said: 'I am going back. I am going to put on a campaign in the Province of Ontario to put this institution where it ought to be financially.' Is there anything finer in the world," proceeded Mr. Maguire, "than to meet some one whose thought uppermost in his mind was to help those who could not help themselves?"

"We say to the people of this Province that no finer opportunity will be given to perpetuate the honored name of public service. There is no finer memorial that could be erected to public service than the memorial to which we are asking the people to subscribe—the Beck Memorial.

Tribute from Successor.

Provincial Hydro Commissioner C. A. Magrath declared that the more intimate he became with the great Provincial Hydro-Electric enterprise the more appreciative he became of the wonderful energy and vision possessed by the late Sir Adam Beck. He hoped and trusted that the campaign would be eminently successful, and offered his services in any capacity.

Mr. Magrath, in common with Mr. Maguire and other speakers, spoke appreciatively of the hospitality and public-spirited endeavors of his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, who, on every occasion, was ready to lend a helping hand to a worthy cause.

Thrown Against Window, Chinaman Receives Cuts

Chun Yee, 11 Elizabeth Street, sustained a deep laceration on his arm at midnight when he was hurled against a window in a restaurant at the above address. He was taken to the General Hospital. John Updale, Moscor Hotel, and William Oake, 781 Shaw Street, alleged to have thrown the Chinese against the window, were arrested by Plainclothesman Boyd and Detectives Waterhouse and Haslewood on charges of aggravated assault and of being drunk.

Downtown Hotel Employee Found Dead in His Room

John McDonald, aged 65, was found dead late last night in his room at 23 Market Street. McDonald was employed in a downtown hotel. On entering the house he is said to have told one of the roomers he was going to die. The man, becoming alarmed, ran to King and Sherbourne Streets, and notified Constable Lavery. On entering the house Lavery found the man lying dead on the bed. The body was removed to the Morgue. Death, police believe, was from natural causes. An autopsy will be held.

forces of the Chamber to an early solution of the pressing financial problems. The Cabinet, however, it is thought, will have a hard road to travel. M. Briand had scarcely left for his mission in London completing the peace of Europe, with a godspeed from Herr von Hoesch, the German Ambassador, when the members of the Left met in the Chamber and started a movement to renew the Radical-Socialist alliance.
This move bodes no good for the Briand Cabinet, in the opinion of Parliamentary observers.

Confidence Vote Expected

The Radicals accepted M. Briand's combination, they say, only as a necessary evil, but they are far from reconciled to a Cabinet presided over by any one but a member of their own group. The Briand Cabinet, nevertheless, is considered sure of a big vote of confidence at the outset, with a sufficient lease of life to get its financial measures before the Chamber. Those measures, it is believed, are likely to pass if they constitute a reasonable compromise between the opposing points of view.

Kempf, President of the Paris Chamber of Commerce, stated this evening that French Chambers of Commerce decidedly favored abandonment of all Government monopolies to private companies.

"We can't go into details," Kempf said, "but we can make a statement of principle which the Government should take into account.
We cannot figure the exact expenditures and revenues which the country should expect from new management of such monopoly, because we have not the necessary documents to judge by. Therefore, we don't know under what conditions the tobacco and match monopolies and the various public services should be farmed out."

May Have New Ambassador

It is understood that within a few days Premier Briand will name Senator Henri Berenger Ambassador to Washington to succeed Ambassador Dachner, who in all likelihood will go to the retired list. A month ago it was reported that Berenger would be named the new French Ambasador to the United States, and Berenger himself expected it, but for some reason or other Painleve did not take the step.

TREES ARE HAMPERED AFTER FOREST FIRES

Dean Howe of Forestry Department Tells of Irreparable Damage

Every tree is a symbol of a great struggle for existence, from the time the tiny seedling first sends a green shoot into the air until it finally conquers the fury of the elements and the competition of its neighbors. In his address last night before the Toronto Field Naturalists' Club, Dean C. D. Howe of the Faculty of Forestry on "The Making of a Tree" told the story with graphic illustrations.

Forest fires made conditions of growth for the seedling very difficult, he said. First of all, it was forced to live on barren soil, and then it was choked by the new growth which sprang up. In Canada were tremendous areas of burnt-over land on which seedlings of the better varieties of wood had a hard battle with the oppressing after-growth, and only one of a great many seedlings came to maturity.

Dean Howe showed how a tree derived the major portion of its material from the air, its main source of food, and by means of slides demonstrated the advantages gained by proper spacing which gave the tree symmetrical growth.

NATIVE LITERATURE IS SOURCE OF PRIDE

Canadians Were First in Many Fields, Says Dr.
Locke

SEES REAL BACKGROUND

Dr. George H. Locke, Chief Librarian of the Toronto Public Librarian, addressed 300 members of the Young Men's Canadian Club last night at the Hotel Carls-Ritz. Dr. Locke's knowledge of Canadian literature and his enterprising way of telling about it made the meeting one of the most interesting of the season.
There was tradition connected with our literature and a real background of which we might be proud, he said. Humorous stories, naturalist stories and Western stories were originally started by Canadian writers. Judge Halliburton of Nova Scotia used the famous Sam Slick character for the original humorous stories. Charles G. D. Roberts and Thompson Seton were the authors of the first animal stories, and Ralph Connor's "Black Rock" was the beginning of the now popular Western stories.

Prices were presented at this meeting to the winners of the annual golf tournament. Presentations were made by Vic Ramsay, and the cup winners were George Kalley, Jim Boulter, Norman Alexander and Fowler Webster.

Judge McDonald of the Supreme Court of British Columbia will address the next regular meeting on Dec. 14.

"straight" singing numbers obvious-

GAY FAIRY FANTASY.

Margaret Eaton Performance Should Improve During Week.

"The Shepherdess Without a Heart," by Bertram Forsyth, is a pretty little Christmas whimsy, a fairy fantasy set to music, a pantomime minus the broad comedy. The new Margaret Eaton Theatre was filled to capacity last evening for the first-night performance, and, judging by the generous applause, the decision was unanimously favorable to Mr. Forsyth's play. It is a play for both children and grown-ups; the youngsters will enjoy the fairy stuff, and the older folks will be charmed with the young histrions that make it convincing. As presented last evening, however, it was rather tedious experience, the three acts consuming no less than three hours. The second act would be vastly improved by some judicious cutting, and by a general speeding up of the various scenes. Even fairies lose their charm when they return too frequently or talk too much.

The story is an old one. Kaspar and Martha, an elderly clockmaker and his wife, send their grandchildren to bed on Christmas Eve and then proceed to consider their poverty. On Christmas Day they are to be turned out of their house, unless their rent is paid. Finally, they shuffle off to bed, and on the magic stroke of 12 the china shepherdess and her chimney-sweep-lover on the mantelpiece come to life; the cuckoo bird in the clock chirps and hops about; the mice frolic, a whole army of tin soldiers parade, and everything is bright and merry. In the end, of course, prosperity returns to Kaspar and Martha, due to the happy influence of Father Christmas.

Some of the grouping and lighting effects are particularly attractive, and the incidental music throughout is tuneful and appropriate for the young voices, though last night the orchestra showed a tendency to lag.

JACKIE COOGAN RETURNS.

Youthful Screen Star Appears at Loew's in "Old Clothes."

Jackie Coogan is one of the attractions at Loew's Theatre this week in "Old Clothes," a successor to the youthful star's last picture, "The Ragman." The production seemed to delight yesterday's audience. A little older and wiser, now of the Dominion was keenly appreciated by the house as an exceedingly good and well-enacted feature of the performance. It contained an appeal for unity which was definite and wholesome.

The scene atop a bus was thoroughly diverting, and the finale, in which melodies of yesteryear were sung, closed as excellent a performance as the heart could wish for.

HIPPODROME PANTOMIME.

"Jack and the Beanstalk." With New MacLean Film, Makes Great Bill.

"Jack and the Beanstalk" at the Hippodrome, continues to climb in the estimation of Toronto's theatregoing public. The second week of this, Jack Arthur's Christmas gift to the eye and ear, began yesterday under most auspicious circumstances.
Its appeal, if anything, is more irresistible than ever. Lavish staging, tasty dressing of ballet and dance ensembles, a book the charm of which lies in the fact that it does not bore, and a score which includes several sugar-sweet songs that send the audience away humming and happy, contribute to as entertaining and successful a pantomime as ever Toronto has had occasion to pass its approval on.
Jack Arthur has done it again! That in itself should be sufficient testimony as to the worth of the production.

Frankie Stein, as "Jack," continues to captivate in her interpretation of the fabled dreamer boy. Florence Rogge, as his sweetheart, delightfully sings and dances her way to the hearts of both grown-up and child. Comedy honors go to Fred Emney, who plays the Fairy Queen as Johnny Dooley would play it, in a boisterous fashion that rib-tickles from beginning to end.

Capable support is given these players by the other principals—Leon Leonidoff, Vivian Masters, Thelma Bateman, Harvey Doaney, Albert David, Cameron Geddes and Lawrence Burford. Considerable "smartening up" is noticeable this week in the chorus numbers. One number, delightfully reminiscent of "The Totem Pole" stepping of "Rose Marie," was given a great hand by yesterday's capacity houses.

Pressing the pantomime close for honors is Douglas MacLean's vehicle, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," filmed from George M. Cohan's stage version of Earl Der Biggers's story. The film does not follow the original story very faithfully, but it is packed full of fun and thrills, and boasts of an unexpected ending which the producers request be not divulged. Mac-Lean is the old MacLean in this picture—the young exponent of comedy who made them all sit up and take notice with his "Twenty-three and a Half-hours' Leave." The "Baldpate" story is too well known to require any comment. Baldpate Inn—a lonely summer hotel in the off season—is the locale. Crooks, and hermits, and constables, and whatnot run through the picture and Mac-Lean gallops after them. But the picture must be seen to be appre-

TOWNSHIP ACCOUNTS WERE BADLY KEPT, SAYS INVESTIGATOR

Provincial Officer Reports Irregularities to Gwillimbury Council

EX-TREASURER SPEAKS

(Special Despatch to The Globe.)
Kewich, Dec. 29.—Following the Provincial inquiry into the accounts of North Gwillimbury Township, J. A. Ellis, Director of the Bureau of Municipal Affairs of Ontario, has reported that there were irregularities in the conduct of the municipality's financial affairs; that the books of account were not kept properly; and that the moneys were not as carefully looked after as they should have been.

Month's Inquiry.

The inquiry was instituted at the request of the Township Council, which asked for an explanation of the findings of the audit, conducted for the Province by Gordon, Peters & Co., on the demand of a petition signed by thirty ratepayers. J. H. Naughton, Township Solicitor, was in charge of the inquiry, which commenced in the local Town Hall on Nov. 25, and was held in the presence of Director Ellis; W. J. Crawford, Provincial Municipal Auditor; G. P. Peters, the special auditor; T. H. R. Brock, his assistant; and Fred VanNorman, the present Township Clerk and Treasurer. Mr. Peters and his assistant, Mr. Brock, were examined in respect to a number of questions submitted in writing by Mr. Naughton. The inquiry was not judicial, according to Mr. Ellis, and the whole matter is now in the hands of the Township Council for further consideration.

Accounts Mixed.

Another of Mr. Ellis's findings was that former Township Treasurer W. A. Hirst should have kept his own money and that of the municipality separate. Questioned at the inquiry, Mr. Hirst admitted to Mr. Naughton that on Feb. 7, 1923, township funds amounting to $200 were deposited in Mr. Hirst's account by his brother. The ex-treasurer further admitted that on March 24, 1923, his brother had again deposited township funds to his (Hirst's) credit, the amount in this instance being $349.50, of which, Mr. Hirst declared, $75.16 was his own. Mr. Hirst found later that the balance of $41.14 should have been in the township account, and had transferred it. Mr. Hirst also explained that he had written a personal cheque, following an audit, for the amount needed, according to the auditors, to make the books balance.

Questioned as to why he had paid over to the township a cheque for $500, Mr. Hirst replied that the money must have been owing the township, due to an error. He would not say whether or not it was the auditors' statement that showed

HAT POLICE FORCE BACK IN CHATHAM

Five of Eight Members Are Re-engaged by the Commission

(Special Despatch to The Globe.)
Chatham, Dec. 29.—Finlay Low, who for five years served as a Provincial constable, recently appointed Chief of Police, will head the local force at the start of the year, which will include four of the present eight members. The reorganization was almost completed at a special meeting of the Chatham Police Commission this afternoon. Reappointed today were Sergeants Peter DeZella and James Dodson and Constables Herman Merritt and Earl Glover. James Harper of this city, who some years ago served as a constable, was appointed to the force, along with George Primer of Windsor. The Chief's salary was fixed at $2,000, the sergeant's salary at $1,570, and the constables' at $1,340.

"WORLD TEACHER" EXPLAINS MISSION

Can Be Felt That New Order Is Coming, He Says

(Associated Press Cable.)
Madras, India, Dec. 29.—J. Krishnamurti, 30-year-old Hindu and Oxford graduate, hailed by theosophists all over the world as the prospective "world teacher," addressed a public meeting held at Adyar today under the auspices of the Order of the Star in the East. It was at the closing of the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the order.

The speaker dealt with the emotional aspect of the coming of the world teacher. The idea in itself, he said, was one of magnificent beauty.

"There is no such thing as proving it," he went on. "You must feel it. You must realize it, that new order must come into the world; and in the belief in the coming of the world teacher, of Shri Krishna (a Brahmin teacher, who, theosophists assert, came 500 years before the Christ of Nazareth), and of Christ, lies real and intense happiness."

"You may ask how you physically know that such a stupendous individual, such a divinity, will be among us. I ask, How do you know when you are in love, when you are thrilled with affection? You do not give any explanation, for you feel you cannot give positive proofs. It is the same with me; because I believe in it intensely I am willing to throw up everything."

"With that belief in the background, one can build a new civilization, a new society, a new spiritual democracy. It is the only force by which you can bind the whole world as one unit."

Now conducted by the most modern methods.

KANSAS REPUBLICAN TALKS DEMOCRATIC

Senator Capper Is Not Certain That Highest Tariff Is the Best

SIGNS OF INSURGENCY

(By TOM KING.)
(Special Despatch to The Globe.)
Washington, D.C., Dec. 29.—Hon. Arthur Capper, Republican Senator from Kansas, and Chairman of the farm bloc in the last Congress, warned of Eastern manufacturers in a speech before the Reconstruction League Convention here today, that the protective tariff system was in danger of being overthrown.

Mr. Capper declared himself a protectionist, and said he had voted for the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill, but he was not satisfied that there should not be a radical downward revision of the tariff at the present session. The farmers, he said, felt that they were getting the short end of the tariff, which had been made in the interest of New England and Eastern manufacturers. Their resentment was so bitter that the whole protective system might be overthrown unless the East agreed to general tariff reductions. Personally he declared himself in favor of placing aluminum and all aluminum products on the free list. Senator Capper favored legislation along the lines of the McNary-Hanger bill to stabilize agricultural prices, but also urged immediate tariff revision.
